Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 1-41 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The primary reasons for the indication of the allowability of claims 1-41 are:

Regarding claims 1-21, the prior art does not teach or fairly suggest in combination with the other claimed limitations a modular electrical wiring device comprising an insertable member or element configured to be inserted into the opening in a single circuit mode such that the insertable tab establishes electrical connectivity between the first element and the second element, the insertable member or element being configured to be removed from the opening to break electrical connectivity between the first element and the second element in a split circuit mode, the insertable member or element being configured to be re-inserted into the opening to reconfigure the device in single circuit mode.

Regarding claims 22-41, the prior art does not teach or fairly suggest in combination with the other claimed limitations a modular electrical wiring device comprising an insertable element configured to be inserted into the opening in a split circuit mode such that the insertable tab break electrical connectivity between the first element and the second element, the insertable member or element being configured to be removed from the opening to establish electrical connectivity between the first element and the second element in a single circuit mode, the insertable -element being configured to be re-inserted into the opening to reconfigure the device in split circuit mode.

These limitations are found in claims 1-41, and are neither disclosed nor taught by the prior art of record, alone or in combination.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
